Definitions

Trend series estimates are used to "smooth" data to enable longer term trends to become more noticeable. They are the preferred series to use when making a comparison over time, e.g. 12 months.

Original series estimates (or unadjusted estimates) are the survey data as collected, generalised to the relevant population. These estimates have not been seasonally adjusted or trend adjusted ("smoothed").

Employment

States' trend series comparisons—

The Australian and State trend series comparisons are given on page 24. There was an increase of 0.8 per cent in Tasmania's employment over the year to January 1995. The largest percentage increase in employment was in Queensland (4.9 per cent). The next highest percentage increase in employment was in Western Australia (4.7 per cent), followed by NSW (3.7 per cent) and Victoria (2.6 per cent). South Australia had an increase in employment of 1.3 per cent.

Regional Tasmania's original series figures—

In the Hobart and Southern Statistical Division the estimate of unadjusted employment increased by 600 between December 1993 and December 1994 to 100 200. The estimate of employment in the Mersey-Lyell Statistical Division was 45 400 in December 1994, an increase of 4800 on the figure for December 1993. Employment in the Northern Statistical Division decreased by 6500 between December 1993 and December 1994 to 53 200.

(See tables 3–8, pages 2–7.)

Unemployment

Tasmania's trend series figures—

The Tasmanian provisional trend series estimate of 25 000 unemployed persons in January 1995 was a decrease of 1700 on the figure for January 1994 of 26 700. The estimate of the unemployment rate of 11.3 per cent in January 1995 was a decrease compared to the estimate of the unemployment rate of 12.0 per cent in January 1994. (See tables 3–8, pages 2–7.)

The labour force

Tasmania's trend series figures—

In January 1995 there was an unadjusted estimate of 366 700 civilian Tasmanians aged 15 or more. There were an estimated 221 500 persons (based on trend series estimates) in the labour force. The estimate of the labour force participation rate in January 1995 was 60.4 per cent, compared with the figure of 60.6 per cent in January 1994.

For males, the estimate of the participation rate was 72.0 per cent, compared with 72.2 per cent in January 1994. For females, the estimate of the participation rate was 49.2 per cent, compared with 49.5 per cent in January 1994.

Employed wage and salary earners

In June 1994 there were approximately 143 100 employed wage and salary earners in Tasmania. In June 1992 the figure was 143 700 employed wage and salary earners.

In May 1994 the Tasmanian public sector accounted for 33.8 per cent of all employed wage and salary earners. Overall, the category Community services had the highest industry representation (30.8 per cent, compared with 26.3 per cent in May 1992). The next highest industry grouping was Wholesale trade and Retail trade (19.1 per cent, compared with 19.7 per cent in May 1992) and Manufacturing (13.3 per cent, compared with 15.0 per cent in May 1992).

In May 1994, women made up 45.6 per cent of employed wage and salary earners. In May 1992, the equivalent figure was 45.5 per cent.

Award rates of pay indexes

The annual movement from December 1993 to December 1994 of weekly award rates of pay indexes for Tasmania rose by 1.0 per cent for full-time adult females and by 0.7 per cent for full-time adult males. For Australia, the figures were 1.0 per cent for females and 0.8 per cent for males, for a combined annual increase of 0.9 per cent.

For full-time adult female employees in Tasmania, the largest industry increases over this 12 month period occurred in the Wholesale and retail trade industry (2.3 per cent); Recreation, personal and other services industry (2.1 per cent); and Manufacturing industry (2.0 per cent).

For the same period for full-time adult male employees in Tasmania, the largest industry increases occurred in the Recreation, personal and other services industry (2.1 per cent); and Wholesale and retail trade industry (1.8 per cent).

The largest occupation increases over the same period for full-time adult female employees occurred in Tradespersons (2.7 per cent); and Salespersons and personal service workers (1.7 per cent).

Prices for house building materials in Hobart increased by 3.9 per cent over the twelve-month period ending December 1994, which was the highest rise for all capital cities. The national increase was 3.4 per cent with Adelaide recording the lowest increase at 1.4 per cent.

Prices for building materials used in building other than house building increased in Hobart by 1.5 per cent in the year ended December 1994, which was the lowest of all the capital cities. The national increase was 2.8 per cent, with Sydney recording the largest increase at 3.4 per cent.

Major contributors to the annual movement in Hobart were non-ferrous pipes and fittings (up 33.7 per cent), precast concrete products (up 11.1 per cent) and structural timber (up 8.5 per cent).

Price Index of Materials Used in House Building, Six State Capital Cities and Canberra, December Quarter 1994, ABS Catalogue No. 6408.0, released on 10 February 1995, $10.00

Price Index of Materials Used in Building Other Than House Building, Six State Capital Cities and Canberra, December Quarter 1994, ABS Catalogue No. 6407.0, released on 10 February 1995, $13.00

This was lower than the annual increase for the weighted average of the eight capital cities (2.5 per cent), but higher than that for Melbourne (2.1 per cent) and equal to that of Perth.

Major contributors to the quarterly increase in Hobart were mortgage interest charges, furniture, cigarettes and tobacco, and holiday travel and accommodation in Australia. Small decreases were recorded in the price of personal care products, automotive fuel, pharmaceuticals and some food items.

Consumer Price Index, December Quarter 1994, ABS Catalogue No. 6401.0, released on 25 January 1995, $13.00

These figures also represent a 9.4 per cent decrease on the number (1100) and a 5.8 per cent decrease on the value ($66.9 million) for December 1993. In comparison, the corresponding national figures showed a 16.6 per cent decrease on the number and a 12.4 per cent decrease on the value for November 1993.

While the December 1994 trend estimate for number of new secured housing finance commitments in Tasmania rose for the third successive month, the national trend estimate continued a decline which began in April 1994.

Housing Finance for Owner Occupation, ABS Catalogue No. 5609.0, released on 23 February 1994, $13.00

Livestock slaughtering

Trend estimates—

The Tasmanian trend estimate for slaughtering of cattle and calves is higher in December 1994 than in November 1994, while for sheep and lambs, as well as pigs the trend series are lower.

Livestock slaughtering for cattle and calves has shown an increase since a low point in May 1994. For December 1994 the trend estimate was 21 800, which is 20.1 per cent above the figure for December 1993.

For sheep and lambs the trend series peaked in September 1994. The trend estimate of 100 000 slaughtered in December 1994 was 29.7 per cent above the 77 100 for December 1993. Estimates for all months since April 1994 have been well above the corresponding months for the previous year.

The trend estimate for pigs slaughtered shows a peak in December 1993 and January 1994 of 8000, followed by a slight decline. The trend has declined more steeply over the past five months. The trend figure of 7500 pigs slaughtered in December 1994 was 5.7 per cent down on the level at December 1993.

Building approvals

There were 228 new dwelling units approved during December 1994 in Tasmania, a 20 per cent decrease on the number recorded for November 1994, and a 39 per cent decrease on the figure recorded for December 1993 (371).

For the twelve months ended December 1994 there were 3702 new dwelling units approved, ten per cent below the 4123 units recorded for the previous corresponding twelve months.

The latest monthly trend estimates for the number of dwelling units approved show fourteen consecutive months of decline.

The highest number of dwelling units approved in December 1994 was recorded by the Municipality of Meander Valley with 36, followed by the Municipality of Sorell with 23, the City of Launceston with 21 and the Municipality of Kingborough with 16.

The value of new residential building approved, at current prices, in December 1994 was $18.2 million, compared with the November 1994 figure of $21.2 million and the December 1993 figure of $26.7 million.

The value of all building approved, at current prices, for December 1994 was $48.2 million compared with $42.7 million in November 1994 and $40.6 million in December 1993.

Retail

The latest monthly trend estimate was flat. This follows a period of four months when the trend was in slight decline.

The trend estimate of turnover for December 1994, for Australia ($9274.4 million), was nearly seven per cent higher than for December 1993. Growth in the trend estimate of turnover was 0.2 per cent for December 1994 which was the fourth consecutive month of declining growth.

While the weak decline in Tasmanian retail trend has flattened out, all other States, consistent with the national series, have shown a gradual easing in retail trend growth over the past four months.

In original terms, the estimate of retail turnover in December 1994, for Tasmania, was $312.1 million, an increase of more than one per cent on the figure recorded for December 1993.

New motor vehicle registrations

There were 1363 new motor vehicles (excluding motorcycles) registered in Tasmania during December 1994. This was over six per cent more than for November (1280) and over two per cent higher than the figure recorded for December 1993. There were 440 vehicles registered by vehicle rental businesses during December 1994.

Registrations for the twelve months ended December 1994 (13 380) were over seven per cent more than for the twelve months ended December 1993 (12 497). Nearly 13 per cent of the registrations for 1994 were for vehicles registered by vehicle rental businesses.

(a) Source: Australian Dairy Corporation. (b) Changing productivity per staff-hour makes these indicators unsatisfactory for long-term comparisons. (c) Metallurgical refining index (Base: 1979-80 = 100.0). Output from selected establishments covering the smelting and refining of ferro-alloys, zinc and aluminium. The weighting pattern is based on the establishments' value added as derived from the 1979-80 Manufacturing Census. For multi-product establishments, value added was apportioned to products on the basis of gross receipts from each product. (d) Includes the whole milk equivalent of farm cream intake. (e) Includes butter equivalent of butter oil. (f) Includes spinning, weaving and carpet making. Reported by establishments which manufacture textiles only, or manufacture clothing and textiles in the one plant.
